Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following document:
D1: EP-A-1 267 497 (NIPPON ELECTRIC CO) 18 December 2002 (2002-12-18).
2. The document D1 is regarded as being the closest prior art to the subject-matter of claims 1 (method) and 11 (device) and shows an interference canceller in a multi access communication system. Signals are received by an array of antennas and are processed by multibeam former.
In D1 the interference is jointly computed for all the users and all the user signals are corrected in parallel.
 - 2.1. The subject-matter of claims 1 and 11 differs from this known D1 in that the interference is not cancelled in parallel for all the users. In the invention the interference is subtracted one user per time, starting from the user with strongest arrival.
 - 2.2. The subject-matter of claims 1 and 11 is therefore new (Article 33(2) PCT).
3. The problem to be solved by the present invention may be regarded as improvement of interference cancellation when using a multibeam former in a multiple access radio system.
 - 3.1. D1 does not suggest any hint to the solution proposed by the invention. For this reason the subject-matter of the independent claims of the present application is considered as involving an inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT).
4. Claims 2-10 and 12-20 are dependent on claims 1 and 11 respectively and as such also meet the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.
